The Evaluation Advisory Committee (EAC) Report

Quality assessment of the evaluation

Name of Evaluation: Evaluation of Gavi's Private Sector Engagement Strategy (2021-2025)

Year of report: 2026

a) The Evaluation Advisory Committee (EAC) rated this report as;

- [x] Fully met or exceeded Gavi quality standards
- [ ] Met Gavi quality standards with only minor shortcomings
- [ ] Partially met Gavi quality standards with some shortcomings
- [ ] Did not meet Gavi quality standards with major shortcomings

b) General comments:

Strengths:

The report is comprehensive, clearly written and logically structured, with strong alignment between the evaluation questions, methods, findings and conclusions. The evaluation draws on multiple lines of evidence and uses triangulation and evidence-strength ratings to enhance the credibility and transparency of its findings. The report clearly situates the evaluation within Gavi's evolving strategic and operating context, and its forward-looking analysis provides relevant and useful evidence to inform Gavi's future approach to private sector engagement

Shortcoming:

The EAC identified some areas for strengthening during its quality assessment of the draft report. These were addressed in the final report, including through improvements to the clarity and accessibility of key messages and the articulation of the analytical approach.

Observations:

The evaluation provides a strong and timely evidence base for informing Gavi's future approach to private sector engagement. The EAC particularly noted the value of the evaluation's forward-looking analysis in the context of Gavi 6.0 and the evolving role of private sector partnerships.
